Travel TechLab by HBX Group is the innovation lab of HBX Group, and powered by Wayra, which seeks to constantly re-imagine the world of travel by finding new ways to help our customers succeed and our business partners achieve their goals.

As part of our ongoing mission to co-innovate with startup partners in order to deliver impactful, customer-focused experiences, products and platforms which reshape the travel industry, earlier this year TravelTech Lab by Hotelbeds hosted a Pitch Day Challenge, where startups from around the world were invited to showcase the myriad, forward-looking ways their products and services are providing solutions to real-life challenges currently being faced within the industry.

In this 'Spotlight On' blog series, we'll be shining the light of attention on each of the four start-ups that were shortlisted during this Pitch Day Challenge, to bring their work to the forefront of the travel industry's focus.

This time, we're diving into the journey of Chekin, a promising start-up that has captured our attention thanks to its unique technological solutions which help professionals and hosts to optimise the entire process of vacation rental management, covering crucial stages such as: online guest registration, OCR scanner for guest ID, identity verification, sending data to authorities, customised rental contracts and digital signatures, upselling, tourist taxes, customised communications with guests, online payments, damage protection, remote access and much more.

Can you describe the genesis of the start-up, including the idea that sparked its creation?

Chekin, a Sevilla-based startup founded in 2017, started on a mission to streamline the guest registration process within tourist accommodations. Its founder and CEO, Carlos Lagares, created Chekin from his years of property management experience with a clear objective: eradicate manual check-in procedures.

The first version, named the "chekin app," allowed guests to complete online forms prior to arrival and simplified the creation of guest's registration report and mandatory legal documents. In line with Chekin's expansion, the company's portfolio grew to cover full automation of the entire process. The company started with a basic product, but surprisingly managed to attract more than 600 establishments in a short period of time.

Despite its humble beginnings, the derivation of the word "check-in" to "chekin" resulted in a brand that strongly resonated in the global hospitality industry. Today, Chekin stands as a leading company, fundamentally reshaping how the hospitality industry navigates the complexities of guest check-in. Its innovative approach has enhanced guest experiences while empowering hosts to channel their efforts into exceptional service delivery and revenue maximisation.

Driven by a bold vision to establish global dominance in all aspects of the check-in process, Chekin continues to make giant strides in the lodging sector.

Can you articulate for us Chekin's mission and long-term vision, outlining the problems it seeks to solve and opportunities it presents?

Give us some insight into your company culture and brand values. How do you foster innovation, as a company?

At Chekin, our approach to fostering innovation is deeply ingrained in our company culture. We recognise that innovation is not just about developing groundbreaking products and solutions but also about cultivating an environment where creativity thrives, and every team member feels empowered to contribute their ideas.

Here's a glimpse into our strategy for fostering innovation:

1. Encouraging Open Communication: We believe that great ideas can come from anyone, regardless of their position within the company. We encourage open communication across all levels, ensuring that every team member's voice is heard. Regular brainstorming sessions, idea-sharing platforms, and cross-functional meetings are a few ways we promote a culture of open dialogue.

2. Embracing Diversity: We understand that diverse perspectives fuel innovation. Our team is composed of individuals from various backgrounds, cultures, and experiences. This diversity not only enriches our workplace but also leads to a broader range of ideas and solutions.

3. Fail Forward Philosophy: Innovation inherently involves risk-taking and experimentation. We foster a "fail forward" philosophy, where failures are viewed as learning opportunities. This mindset encourages individuals to step outside their comfort zones, knowing that their contributions are valued even if they don't always lead to immediate success.

4. Cross-Functional Collaboration: We break down silos and encourage collaboration between different departments. The synergy between teams with diverse expertise often sparks innovative solutions that wouldn't have been possible in isolation.

5. External Partnerships: We actively seek partnerships with external organisations, startups, and research institutions to tap into a broader network of ideas and expertise. These collaborations help us stay at the forefront of innovation in our industry.

At Chekin, innovation is more than just a buzzword - it's a way of life. By fostering a culture that values creativity, collaboration, and continuous improvement, we empower our team to push boundaries, create meaningful solutions, and drive the company's success to new heights.
